Look What Park View is Doing to Become a Clean Community

Community Clean Up Coordinator Tom Powers has stepped up to the plate to take his neighborhood back with a vengeance. According to Tom, "Somebody had to do it, so I said that I would." Tom's simple actions of getting involved with the Clean Community Commission and soliciting volunteers from his neighborhood to get involved by passing out fliers, has started out with a boom. Tom, a Portsmouth native, has been in Park View for 6 months. He says, "I chose this community because of its historic flavor, the architecture, and because I liked the neighborhood". Take note, everyone, Park View is on the move.
