CW 150 Legacy Project to Visit Portsmouth
Goal is to digitize Civil War-era documents for research purposes

Portsmouth, VA – The Virginia Sesquicentennial of the American Civil War Commission and the Library of Virginia have partnered to create a statewide online collection of original Civil War manuscripts that still remain in private hands. The Civil War 150 Legacy Project: Document Digitization and Access focuses on manuscript materials created during the period 1861-1865 that reflect social, political, military, business and religious life in Virginia during the period of the Civil War and the early period of Reconstruction. Citizens are encouraged to bring original family materials to be scanned and included in the Project. Scanned materials will be made available online via the Library of Virginia website and the Virginia Sesquicentennial of the American Civil War Commission website.

CW 150 Legacy Project staff will be visiting Portsmouth on Saturday, January 28, 2012. The event will take place from 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. at the Churchland Library in the Coleman Meeting Room. Appointments are encouraged and a limited number of walk-ins will be accommodated, as scheduling allows. To schedule an appointment time, please contact Corey Thornton at 393-8591 or by e-mail at thorntonc@portsmouthva.gov.

The CW 150 Legacy Project is a multi-year initiative to locate, digitize, and provide world-wide access to the private documentary heritage of the American Civil War era located throughout Virginia. Utilizing Local Sesquicentennial Committees already established by the Virginia Civil War Sesquicentennial Commission and through a partnership with the Library of Virginia and a network of statewide connections, the CW 150 Legacy Project will provide individuals an opportunity to have their historic letters, diaries, and other collections scanned to preserve their valuable intellectual content.

The Library of Virginia (www.lva.virginia.gov), located in historic downtown Richmond, holds the world's most extensive collection of material about the Old Dominion and has been a steward of the Commonwealth's documentary and printed heritage since 1823. The story of Virginia and Virginians has been told in many ways since 1607. At the Library of Virginia it is told through nearly 113 million manuscripts and more than 1.9 million books, serials, bound periodicals, microfilm reels, newspapers, and state and federal documents, each an individual tile in the vast and colorful mosaic of Virginia's experience.
